Bookies To Pay the Public

One reason many Americans don't believe in their lawmakers is the silly idea that it is an act of wrongdoing to make a bet on a horse — unless it is made within the confines of a race track.

It takes precious little logic to understand that the laws on betting are for the benefit of wealthy and the track owners.

No one has been able to explain satisfactorily why betting is legal if it is done within a fenced area to which the public must pay an entrance fee to watch dwarfed, little men astride high-strung mounts.

How can all this hoopla put complete legality on an otherwise illegal and criminal act?

It is with a degree of satisfaction that it is noted that New York State has approved off-track betting this week.

This will not only make the laws concerning racing more believable but it will relieve track operators of the justifiable charge that they are bilking the public.

In order to keep their baliwicks intact by making bookmaking illegal, track operators have bilked the public out of billions of dollars in betting taxes from the thousands of bookmakers operating in every town in the nation.

New York hopes to skim off more than $200 million a year from previously illegal bets. The money will now go to the public use instead of to those who operate bookie rings.

Nevada also has legal off-track betting.

It's about time that this move was made.

Sheriff's Raid Nets Eight On Drug Charges

Officers from six law enforcement agencies in San Diego County rounded up 31 persons, including eight from the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove area last week, in a narcotics raid launched by the County Sheriff's Office.

The raid was the result of three months' work by undercover agents, and netted the Sheriff's Dept. small quantities of opium, heroin, hashish, LSD and marijuana.

Oldtime Days Set For May 21, 22, & 23

If you suddenly see some of Lemon Grove's staid and respectable merchants sprouting a crop of chin whiskers, don't be shocked. They are not turning hippie, simply getting ready for Lemon Grove Oldtime Days, May 21, 22 and 23.

One of the features of the annual evet is the appearance of our merchants dressed in the costumes of a bygone era. Many of the merchants go so far as to raise beards, sideburns or mutton chop whiskers to enhance their outfits.

Not to be outdone, the fairer sex takes to poke bonnets and even a few bustles.

The Oldtime Days Association is still seeking the oldest native of Lemon Grove currently living in the area. This party, male or female, will be honored at the Kickoff Dinner, May 2, in VFW Hall and will ride in a place of honor in the parade. Long time native residents should contact the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce or any Association member.

The parade itself bids fair to be the finest seen in the Southland with a record number of entries having indicated they want to take part.

Included in the confirmed entries are six bands, Ozzies Marching band, and bands from Lemon Grove Junior High, Mount Miguel High, Monte Vista High, Helix High and Grossmont High. In addition units representing various military installations are expected.

This early in the preparation the Association already receiv-

Single Planning Out for LG-SV

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—County supervisors on Monday accepted a recomendation that Spring Valley should not be included in a comunity planning effort by Lemon Grove.

The recommendation was made by Planning Director Dan Cherrier who said that a meeting in Spring Valley at Mt. Miguel High School brought out some highly interested citizens, but not in sufficient numbers to support community planning at this time.

When the board authorized staff assistance in formation of a citizens' committee in Lemon Grove, the staff was alo directed to see if there was a similar interest in Spring Valley.

Cherrier said it is extremely difficult to ascertain a distinct boundary between Lemon Grove and Spring Valley.

He said that in another case of overlapping interests and identification, the area in question was included in two community plans (Fallbrook and Rainbow) with problems arising as yet.

Cherrier said the Spring Valley question could be raised again in 12 to 18 months.

Law Enforcement Course Offered To District Srs.

A new course designed to introduce high school students to law enforcement as a vocational career begins this fall in the Grossmont District.

The new program will be located at Grossmont High School but will be available to twelfth grade boys and girls from all District high schools.

"The new law enforcement course will use an inter-disciplinary approach of combining English, social science, physical education with a law enforcement curriculum to provide a total educational experience for high school seniors who wish to become involved in this field," said Jack Cavanagh, District Director of Vocational Education.

"The course will be taught by a team of teachers, each a specialist in a particular field," Cavanagh said. Sgt. George Dowdy of the California Highway Patrol will be the law enforcement specialist. Other members of the teaching team will be Michael Farrar, English, and James Hatcher, social science.

Dowdy, a retired highway patrol officer and driver training teacher of the District, is currently on active duty with the California Highway Patrol (CHP) to update his experience and develop a broad view of law enforcement activities in the San Diego County area.

According to Cavanagh, the personnel needs in the area of law enforcement are "gigantic" and there are many opportunities for graduates of this program.

Graduates of the law enforcement course may continue their training in one of several area community colleges or San Diego State College, or apply for employment at any law enforcement agency.

Cal. Highway Patrol Cites Non-stoppers

The California Highway Patrol issued 2010 citation in 1969 for violation of the California law which requires drivers to stop when they see flashing red lights on a school bus.

The large red flashing signals located near the top of the bus are used only when passengers have to cross a roadway. On other stops, the school bus drivers do not use the flashing lights. Whenever possible, school bus routes are arranged to minimize the number of red light stops.

The law requires that any driver who meets or overtakes any stopped school bus which has the flashing red lights in operation must stop and not proceed past the bus until the flashing signal ceases operation.

School bus drivers are required to stop the engine, remove the ignition key, and escort elementary school children across the roadway, to or from the bus, with the red light flashing throughout the operation.

Mills Seeks Reelection On Record

State Senator James R. Mills, (D-San Diego), announced that he will be a candidate for re-election in the 40th Senatorial District this year. Lemon Grove and Spring Valley are in his District.

A native San Diegan, Senator Mills lives in East San Diego. He served one term in the State Senate and previously served three terms in the Assembly. With the exception of one other State Senator, he has been in the Legislature longer than any other member of either House from south of Los Angeles County.

He is the first man to have been elected chairman of his party's caucus in both houses of the Legislature. In both the Assembly and the Senate he was elected and re-elected caucus chairman by a unanimous vote for as long as he agreed to serve.

Mills has been the author of laws relating to highway safety, including the law requiring seat belts in all new cars sold in this State. He was the Assembly author of the legislation creating the Unified Port District, and the resolution creating the Old San Diego State Park.

He has also carried many bills to reform California's tax structure and make it more equitable, and to cut costs of government.

Federal Agencies Need Change Congressman Van Deerlin Says

It was a good, old fashioned, politically rewarding trip to Lemon Grove for Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin Monday.

He spoke to some 45 members and guests of the L.G. Rotary club following an hour of consultation with an office-full of constituents at the facilities of this newspaper.

"Each of the persons with whom I met were able to get action on their problem," Van Deerlin said. "A couple of others came to express appreciation for what we had done for them earlier." I am gratified because each now knows that his congressman and his government are concerned about his problems."

At the Rotary club, Van Deerlin turned a critical eye toward many things political and governmental.

Some of the opinions he voiced:

The law must be enforced against federal employees who strike because they are committing illegal acts.

It's a disgrace to spend as many dollars that is necessary to finance a political campaign. Logic suggests that influence goes with big contributions.

Every politician should willingly make his tax returns available to public scrutiny.

The body regulating railroads needs reorganization.

Federal Communications Commission under new leadership is beginning to serve the public well.

The Post Office Department will be reorganized this year as a quasi-public corporation and will emerge as a modernized operation.

Van Deerlin, who has served four terms in Congress attracted favorable comment following his Rotary club appearance.

It was generally agreed that he had developed high political stature during the past terms. He already has a reputation as a hard worker for his constituency.

He was greeted with a standing ovation before his talk and one came spontaneously following it.

Tom Clayton presided at the meeting.

Rock Festivals Same As Church Socials??

By Dick Sims

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Rick festivals, political rallies, church socials, large family gatherings with their friends, or a mass field trip of bird watcher would seem to have little in common.

But, if an ordinance proposed by the County Planning Commission actually is adopted, the groups will have something in common.

If the assembled group meets outdoors in numbers larger than 500 and in an area not previously designated for recreation, a special use permit (at $200) would be needed.

Also contemplated is a license from the County Board of Supervisors which, perhaps logically, would require sanitation facilities and reasonable safety precautions.

No one in county government doubts that the ordinance is to prevent rock festivals, rather than to control them.

The ordinance starts out: "Any outdoor event to which members of the public are invited or admitted for a charge or free of cost . . ."

The exceptions are: "A permanent facility for which a special use permit has been issued, pursuant to this section, for the operation of an amusement park, open air theatre, race track, commercial sport or recreational enterprise, circus, carnival or fairground."

One can easily note that church grounds, family estates or farms, are not excluded. One can assume that by the time the ordinance is in final form, they will be.

If the county really wants to write an anti-rock festival ordinance, why not a straight forward prohibition?

A suggested form: "No gathering of more than 500 persons will be allowed if more than one half of the persons so assembled wear their hair so that it reaches below their ears."

And they could add, "There will be no pollution of the air by noise beyond the confines of the area of the permit, whether the noise is caused by voice or musical instrument."

This ordinance, of couse, would be unconstitutional. The planning commission ordinance is also on uncertain constitutional grounds.

It is the ordinance in Los Angeles County.

The self-destroying effects of moral weakness and the regenerating effects of spiritual thinking are illustrated in the Lesson-Sermon on "Probation After Death" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, April 26.

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Please explain the difference between "esta" and "estan." Do they have the same meaning? When would one be used and not the other?

Both words are taken from "estar" which means "to be." "Esta" is a singular form which is used with a singular subject as in the case of "el esta enamorado" (he is in love). "Estan" is used with plural pronouns as seen in the example, "Ellos estan aburridos." (They are bored.).

"Esta" may be used to describe ones temporary condition, either mental or physical. Temporary conditions like "enfermo" (sick), "ocupado" (busy), "cansado" (tired), "furioso" (furious), and "contento" (happy) are frequently used with "esta." These descriptions usually follow "esta" in the statement form as seen in "el esta ocupado" (he is busy).

Three district singular pronouns; "el (he), "ella" (she), and "usted" (you) are used with "esta." Plural pronouns, "ellos" (they) masc., "ellas" (they), and "ustedes" (you) are used with "estan." Thus we may say "el esta contento" (he is happy) and "ellos estan contentos" (they are happy).

Practice phrases below demonstrate various examples of using "esta" and "estan" in simple everyday conversation. You may wish to learn them with the aid of the recorded voice that says them for you when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

IMPORTANT:

Say "Esta ocupado el?" (eh-S T A H oh-koo-PAH-thoh ehl)
for "Is he busy?"
Say "No, esta enamorado." (noh eh-STAH ehn-AH-moh-RAH-thoh)
for "No, he is in love."

USEFUL PHRASES:

Say "Estan contentos ellos?" (eh-STAHN kohn-TEHN-tohs EH-yohs)
for "Are they happy?"
Say "Si, ellos estan contentos." (SEE eh-yohs eh-STAHN kohn-TEHN-tohs)
for "Yes, they are happy."

Let no one imagine that it is a strained and unnatural thing for one to pray. The contrary is much closer to the fact. It is for more unnatural for one not to pray. Prayer is one of the most natural of human instincts. Prayer is man's response to the divine will.

Lemon Grove Association To Work For Recreation

The newly formed Lemon Grove Asociation has been meeting since November in an effort to identify some of the problems which exist in our community, and acquire a membership of citizens interested in helping to solve some of these problems.

In this short period of time, the Association has attracted concerned parents, businessmen, educators, and students, who have introduced and discussed a wide range of problems for which they feel solutions must be found.

A primary area of interest which has emerged is the complete lack of recreational facilities which are available for the young people in the area.

A proposed summer program, centered at the Lemon Grove Youth Center, is the initial step which will be undertaken by the Lemon Grove Association, working closely with a Lemon Grove student committee and a sudent advisor from San Diego State College.

With the preliminary investigations completed, a meeting was held on April 15, at Lemon Grove Junior High during which committees were formed to begin finalizing arrangements for a sports program, Drop-in Lounge, and the necessary publicity and fund-raising activities for the entire program.

Interested students present were, Jane Ross, Sharon Dale, Denise Dale, James Babcock, and Wendy Finnegan, along with Carolyn Bott, San Diego State Student Advisor.

Community participation is essential in organizing this type of program, and interested parties are urged to call Lemon Grove Junior High office, 469-4183, for information concerning the project and how how they may become involved.

Two Mt. Miguel teachers were also honored. Ned Blass, athletic director and wrestling coach received the Honorary Service Award for his work with youth in that area, Cub Scouts, and in his church.

Quest Speaks At S.V. Kiwanis

Ronald Quast, a stockbroker and member of the Spring Valley Kiwanis Club, was guest speaker at the Apr. 15 breakfast-meeting of the club at Golden Bowl. Quast, who has his office in San Diego, spoke on "Investments."

Ron Quast said we are now in a "technilogical revolution." He told of advances made in transportation and communications over the past 30 years.

He said with conditions going at such a fast pace, a forecast for the next 30 years will not be possible. He said the next decade is bound to surpass this one.

Harry T. Lashmet Jr., a counselor at Monte Vista High School and a fairly new member of the S.V. Kiwanis Club, will be guest speaker at the Apr. 29 breakfast-meeting of the club. He will be speaking in Proposition 8, which has to do with education and taxes.

The S.V. Kiwanis Club is making plans to participate in the Kiwanis Division 31 dinner, scheduled for Thursday, May 7 at 7 p.m. in the V.F.W. Hall, El Cajon.

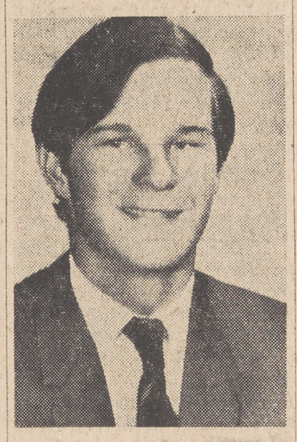
Two Area Seniors Grab Scholarships At S.V. Luncheon

Two Spring Valley high school seniors were the recipients of $150 scholarships by the Spring Valley Community Welfare Inc., when that organization held its annual "Scholarship" luncheon Apr. 14 at the S.V. Community Council Hall, Memory ln.

Julie Cotton

Julie Cotton, a senior at Monte Vista High, received her scholarship by way of the Grace Golden Liberal Arts Scholarship. Miss Cotton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cotton, 10003 Norte Mesa in the Casa de Oro area, plans to attend San Diego State College and to major in journalism.



Dana Stewart

Dana Stewart, a senior at Mt. Miguel High School, received his scholarship by way of the Jessica Higbie Medical Arts Scholarship. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Stewart of 9126 Maynard st., in the south Spring Valley area. He plans to attend San Diego State College to major in biology and to eventually enter into medicine.

Two camperships are to be awarded by the S.V. Welfare sometime in May.

More than 200 persons attended the "Scholarship" luncheon, prepared and served by Sam Pernicano, Lemon Grove restauranter. Following the meal and presentation of the scholarships, Mrs. Walter Ekard, Spring Valley civic worker, took the part of mistress of ceremonies for the annual fashion show by the Welfare Inc.

This year's theme was, "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." The "models" who appeared in clothing taken from the Welfare "Thrift' 'shop, represented many Spring Valley schools and organizations.

There were fashions all the way from the middle 1880's up to the present day and the "Mini" dress.

Along with the many "creations" were a couple of laughs: one model appeared as the "Housewife of the Future," in her floor-length dress, her oversize, terrible-looking shoes and her mops, and half stumbling to the stage, she was greeted by a big round of applause.

Another "big laugh" was the model, or the "Bathing Beauty" who appeared in the Gay 90's bathing suit, complete with parasol. Several persons remarked it was an "Oh you kid," creation.

Morning Gives Cautions At S.V. Women's Club

Stan Morning, of the Spring Valley Fire Department spoke at the Spring Valley Women's club yesterday, and gave several precautions concerning Fire Safety in preparing for a vacation.

According to Morning, it is a good idea to:

1) Leave the address of your destination with a neighbor or relative so you can be contacted if something should occur in your absence.

2) Leave a light on in the house and the porchlight on.

3) Unplug all electric appliances with the exception of freezers or refrigerators.

4) Shut off the gas supply to the water heater, stove and furnace system.

5) Be sure that there are no bottles with water in them that the sun can shine through.

6) All papers and trash should be placed outside for pickup. Trash in the kitchen that is saturated with oil can ignite spontaneously, causing a blaze.

7) Notify the newspapers and post office and ask them to hold papers and mail.

8) Do not advertise your vacation in the local news media or a public place, such as church or school.

9) If possible, arrange for someone to check your premises from time to time.

10) Call the sheriff's office and ask them to patrol your street and keep an eye on your house.

11) Call the fire department, and they will make a note of your absence and destination so they can contact you if necessary.

12) Clear all brush and dry grass at least 30 feet away from your house, garage or other structures.

21 Candidates On Ballot After Miguel Nominations

By Jan Luallin

"Who will be on the ballot?" A very popular question that ran through the minds of many Mount Miguel Matadors, April 17, at the 13th Annual Nominating Convention.

The question was answered as 21 candidates were chosen, by delegates to the convention, as the official candidates for 11 elected offices.

Pat O'Brien and Martin Martin were selected as presidential candidates; Lee Stewart, although unable to attend the convention, and Steve Fick were elected vice-presidential candidates; for secretary, Noci Christianson and Vicki Jefferies were chosen; the only two applicants for attorney general, Steve Williamson and Paul Guynn, were placed on the ballot; and Nancy Foster and Karen Folmar will be in contention for Commissioner of Finance.

Also running are Diane Kleinschmidt and Tom Neel for Commissioner of Activities; Candy Smith and Nancy Riley for Commissioner of School Service; for Commissioner of Communications there is Kittie Pagan and Lowell Brown;

Dale Siscon will be placed on a "yes/no" ballot, being the only candidate for Commissioner of Publicity; a hard-fought nominating battle put Tom Young on the ballot for Commissioner of Athletics, along with Ted Updike; and Laurie Davis and Jim Lord will run for Commissioner of Pep.

Students got a chance to direct questions towards any candidate during their gym periods, April 21. And contenders for offices will get a final chance to influence the voters April 22 at the ASB Elections Assembly.

Results of the elections will be announced at the Mount Miguel High School Presidential Ball, at the Community Concourse, April 24.

Buck Painter To Manage Pool For School Dist.

An avid swim fan and former boys physical education attendant at Mount Miguel High School, has been named the new manager for the Gunther swimming pool at Gillespie Field.

Harry "Buck" Painter is the first Grossmont High School District's appointment since approving a lease-agreement with the County of San Diego to operate the pool.

According to Painter, the Grossmont District plans to open the pool for recreational swimming beginning May 2. "We are presently establishing a fee schedule and our operating hours which will be announced soon."

"The District is also receiving applications and will be employing lifeguards, locker room attendants and cashiers on an hourly and full-time basis.

"High school and college students and other qualified adults are being sought for positions as water safety instructors. We need people with backgrounds in all areas of swimming, diving, scuba diving, and beginning and advanced swimming instruction.

Miguel Mechanics To Compete In Trouble Shooting

More than 150,000 of the top student auto mechanics from all 50 states are now participating in the Plymouth trouble shooting contest.

Some of the mechanics from the Valley-Grove area include Jim Horne, Jack Englestad, Rick Feldon, Robert Butts and Bill Klepper, all from Mount Miguel High School's auto shop classes.

These young mechanics, along with competing youths from other parts of the nation, must find and fix several identical malfunctions deliberately placed under the hoods of new Plymouth cars.

Winners of local contests rate a trip to Indianapolis for the national finals at the "500" Speedway, June 15-17.

The contestants are out to prove that they have earned the title of service technician, and that the old "greasemonkey" label no longer applies.

Rubine Running Reading Spot At Mount Miguel

Unknown to many people and students of Mount Miguel High School, there is a second library on the Mount Miguel campus in Room 232.

Stuart Rubine, head "librarian" and English teacher, has been operating his library for approximately three years. The library is open to any student or teacher on campus, and includes books of all kinds.

The book collection would seem to have cost the school a bit of money for the books in it, but actually it has cost very little. Rubine holds about three book drives every year in order to collect paperbacks for his library.

Students in his classes participate for some sort of prize, and the winner is determined by the number of books he brings in.

The library is mainly a paperback library, and the students go from house-to-house collecting books.

This year's third quarter drive brought in 1600 books; Shirley Barcello won with 622 books, and Kurtis Neely finished second with 230 books. Once the books are in, Rubine and a few students edit them, and the books they can't use are sent to the Veterans' Hospital.

Paperbacks that are complete, but need to be reinforced, are sent to the book room. Mrs. Norma Jones, who in Rubine's opinion has done a tremendous job, replaces old covers and makes cards for each book of the library.

Like any other library, Room 232 Library loses books, approximately 600 a year. Rubine and his students have created a very sufficient cure for this.

If a student loses a book, he may replace the lst book by bringing in three paperbacks for the lost one. This not only clears the student with Rubine, but increases the library by two books. If a hard-ever book is lost, 50 cents or five paperbacks will clear the student.

The fourth quarter book drive has just begun, and Rubine has opened it up to the entire English Department.

The student bringing in the most books at the end of the quarter will win either a free fishing trip with Mr. Rubine to any body of water in San Diego, or a cash prize of $5.

Helix High Students Visit Baja California

By Nancy Zitren

"Sink it, Mike, sink it!"

Does this sound like a typical Helix High School basketball game? It might be, except this game was being played in Ensenada, Mexico, Friday, Apr. 10.

A basketball game was only one of the activities 90 Highland Spanish students enjoyed while being the guests of the Escuela Federal de Bachiller for a day in Mexico.

After being greeted by Senor Borbon, English teacher, and the Mexican students, and a friendly game of international basketball was played, the Highlanders left for the Bufadora, a water shoot about 20 miles down the coast of Baja California. There, they ate lunch while watching water shoot 50 to 60 feet in the air.

Returning to Ensenada, part of the group went to the school to visit English classes, while the other half went downtown to shop. After everyone had a chance to browse through the shops, they ate dinner in a typical Mexican restaurant.

The day was ended in a dance given in honor of the Americans by the Mexican students, in a nearby dance hall.

"I think they realized that Spanish is something that you can use, and that language is truly a communication factor," Miss Maria Heimpel, Helix Spanish teacher, said.

The Helix students not only had a good chance to practice speaking Spanish and to meet new friends, but they had a good time as well.

"I enjoyed the entire day, especially shopping and walking through the town. I think it was a worthwhile experience for all who went," Frances Thunberg, junior, said.

Radio-Tv School Expands

A radio/television training school operated by a local man is expanding.

Ed Wickey, the director of the Bill Wade School of Radio and Television is moving to a new, larger location at 645 Ash st., in San Diego. Wickey lives at 1083 Carlsbad st. in Spring Valley.

According to Wickey, the move was necessitated by growing enrollment.

The Bill Wade School was funded six years ago by popular disc jockey Bill Wade. Since then he has added San Francisco and Los Angeles plus a nation-wide correspondence course to his growing chain of schools.

The school ffers a curriculum in Radio Broadcasting and production, T.V. announcing and production, and FCC 1st class license course.

Wade who is now a disc jockey at KHJ in Los Angeles, is president of the schools.

Vice president is Tom Schaefer, news director of Radio KGB in San Diego.

Students In Business At Highlands Elementary

By John Nicholon
News Editor

Ed Greenalch, teacher at Highlands Elementary School, and his fourth-graders, recently floated a loan from the Casa de Oro branch of the Bank of America, as a business venture tied in with the economics portion of his education program.

The capital was used to finance materials for making "frogs", and they are selling faster than one would expect, considering they haven't come up with any of the croaking variety.

In fact, Principal Duane Keiser is begging for one, but it appears that he'll have to wait till the next production line is finished.

With the profits, the kids are paying off the loan, saving for a study trip to Sea World, and believe it or not, buying stocks.

The plan is to sell the common shares in June to determine loss or gain. Profits will be turned over to the school's Student Council fund.

Mrs. Terese Blanc's fifth graders, not to be outdone, have ventured into a similar operation, but with a catch. Her class, and that of Verne Sweigard, have pulled off a merger!!

In what has got to be one of the biggest coups to hit the financial world, the two classes are selling shares in their place-mat company.

The students sold 300 shares at a dime each, and just recently raised the price to 20c. (These big time sharks really know the market).

The company has already sold much of their product to a group at San Diego State who held a dinner and luncheon over the weekend at the Economic Education Conference.

Buzzie Gets Winners In Baseball Trades

It may have been generally overlooked in the glitter of he occasion, but no fewer than five of the nine players who were in the San Diego Padre opening game lineup were acquired by barter.

They were neither expansion choices nor home bred, but were lured away from other clubs with bait hardly of the vintage variety.

Working at a decided disadvantage in an area where one dabbles carefully even when fully equipped, the San Diego management survived splendiddly, a testimony to its possession in large quantity of manipulation.

The club president, E. J. (Buzzie) Bavasi, is quite suited to this type performance. In the baseball trading market he is regarded, in the parlance of pitchers, as being sneaky fast. Which means, to the uninitiated, that he would prefer to administer a series of little beatings rather than a colossal knockout, thereby cultivating hi prey over a route.

When Bavasi was asked to consider what might have been his most profitable transaction, he referred to a swap in 1960 between the Dodgers and the Cubs where he parted with Don Zimmer and received Chicago's Lee Handley, John Goryl, Ron Perranoski and $27,000.

Bavasi immediately peddled both Hundley and Goryl, pocketing $35,000 for the pair. Perranoski developed into one of the most successful relief pitchers in National League history. And Zimmer, after playing two seasons with the Cubs, was released and then re-acquired by Bavasi at absolutely no cost.

The day in Phoenix when Bavasi advised Zimmer of the trade was a difficult one or both men.

"Zimmer was a great favorite of mine and it broke my heart to tell him," Bavasi said. "There were tears in Don's eyes when I told him he was going to Chicago and he looked absolutely crushed."

To sooth Zimmer's spirit, as well as to lift his own, Bavasi asked the player how he was fixed for cash.

"All I've got is four dollars," Zimmer replied.

"Here take all the money I have with me," Bavasi said, and he reached into his right-hand pocket and emptied the bills, which came to $50 even.

Later, a friend who witnessed the exchange praised Bavasi for his philanthropy.

"Heck, I had $300 with me," Bavasi admitted, "but just before I spoke to Zimmer I put $250 in the other pocket."

Zimmer today is the manager of the Padres' Triple-A farm club in Salt Lake City.

Padres at Home For Ten Games

The San Diego Padres open a 10-game home stand tomorrow eager to commence a winning drive in the National League's competitive western division.

Philadelphia, Montreal and New York arrive in San Diego Stadium in that order and the Padres, to a man, are taking aim on settling some haunting memories.

The Phillies won all but one of the six games played in San Diego last season. While the Mets did even better, sweeping all six.

The Phillies will also offer the competition Saturday night at 7:30 and again on Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The Expos will play night games Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the following week and the Mets arrive for a big four-game weekend series, including a doubleheader Sunday May 3.

The first of several Padre For-The-Fans events are scheduled this weekend. It'll be ladies Night on Saturday (women receive a $1 discount on every seat) and Senior Citizens Day on Sunday (the same discount for every Senior Citizen).

Also, on Sunday, April 26, it's Cap Day with every person in attendance receiving a Padre cap.

MOBY DICK?? — Well, it may not be exactly Moby Dick, but don't tell Ken Sperla, left, or Joe Reoux, both twelve years old. It seems that the boys went fishing a couple of weeks ago, when one of them netted this giant 16-lb. carp at Lake Murray. They used Green Giant Corn as bait, and it took half an hour to bring him in.

UCSD to Host Second Annual NAIA Volleyball Tournament

The San Diego campus of the University of California has been named to host the second annual NAIA National Invitational Volleyball Tournament in its gymnasium Wednesday and Thursday, April 29 and 30, at 9:30 a.m.

This will be the first national sports tournament of any type ever held on the UCSD campus. The two-day competition, sponsored by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, is expected to draw eight of the top collegiate volleyball teams in the country.

According to Howard Hunt, UCSD Athletic Director, the first three place winners of last year's tournament — Earlham College, Indiana; Indiana Institute of Technology, Ft. Wayne; and UCSD — are expected to be among the eight teams invited to compete. In addition, Whittier College, George Williams College, Illinois, (last year's host) and Graceland College, Iowa, have a good chance of being selected for the tournament.

The national tournament will be round robin competition with every team playing every other team two games. The teams will then be split into a winners bracket and a losers bracket to play off for all positions.

Each team will play at least nine matches during the two-day tournament with matches being conducted two at a time on side-by-side courts in the UCSD gymnasium.

Tickets for both days of the tournament are $2 for adults and $1 for students and may be purchased at the gymnasium door.

UCSD placed third in last year's tournament playing in in its first year of intercollegiate volleyball competition. Two members of this year's squad, Kerry Klosterman and Dick Reitherman, were selected to last year's District III All-Tournament team and a third player, Dan Grindle, who graduated last spring, was named to the All-Tournament Second Team.

Most of the top UCSD players have returned to this year's team and, according to UCSD coach Chuck Millenbah, the Tritons could win the District III competition and place very high in the national tournament "if we play as well as we are capable."

What a Schedule!

Chargers Face Football 'Goliaths' For Openers

The Baltimore Colts, Oakland Raiders, Los Angeles Rams, Green Bay Packers in the first four games.

What a way to welcome San Diego into the National Football League!

The most attractive schedule in Charger history was announced today by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle, and greeted by Charger Coach Charlie Waller bluntly, "We've got to be good quick."

Starting their first season under the NFL banner, the Chargers will open the 14-game 1970 league season against Johnny Unitas and the Baltimore Colts at San Diego Stadium on Sept. 20.

San Diego, aligned with Oakland, Kansas City, and Denver in the Western Division of the American Conference, plays host to the Raiders at San Diego Stadium on Sept. 27.

San Diego's first road trip will be only 120 miles to the Los Angeles Coliseum on Oct. 4 as the Chargers battle the Rams for the first time in league competition.

Playing Oakland and Los Angeles back-to-back means facing the "Most Valuable" players of 1969 — quarterbacks Daryle Lamonica of Oakland (AFL) and Roman Gabriel of the Rams (NFL).

There is no letup for the Chargers on the quarterback firing line as Bart Starr and Don Horn lead the Green Bay Packers into San Diego Stadium on Monday night, Oct. 12, in a nationally televised (ABC) game which will be blacked out in Southern California.

The Chicago Bears are the third National Conference opponent for the Chargers at the Wrigley Field lair of Gale Sayers and Dick Butkus on Oct. 18.

The Houston Oilers, with new quarterback Charlie Johnson, come to San Diego on Oct. 25. A tough road game faces the Chargers on Nov. 1 against the Cleveland Browns at Cleveland. The fast-rising Denver Broncos are at San Diego Stadium on Nov. 8.

The Chargers will have three consecutive road games — at Boston, Nov. 15; at Oakland, Nov. 22, and at Kansas City, Nov. 29.

Greg Cook, AFL "Rookie of the Year," leads the Cincinnati Bengals to San Diego on Dec. 6. The Chargers travel to wintry Denver on Dec. 13 before finishing the season against Super Bowl champion Kansas City at San Diego Stadium on Dec. 20.

"It's a great schedule, and a great, great challenge which I intend to meet," said Waller, embarking on his first full year as Charger head coach. "I like opening at home and closing at home, and I know our players will relish the opportunity of meeting most of the best teams in pro football."

San Diego General Manager Sid Gillman called the schedule, "A winner for our fans. It should be a great stimulus for our season-ticket sale."

Grossmont Horsehiders Need Help With Chaffey

SAN MARCOS — With 2/3 of the 1970 season completed, it has been a case of winning the big ones and losing the little ones hat has knocked Grossmont out of first place in the Mission Conference baseball race.

With less than three weeks remaining in the conference season, it has come down to a three-team race for the championship. Chaffey, with a dominating 6-1 record is certainly in the driver's seat, but both Grossmont and Palomar have outside chances of winning.

The Griffins are 5-3 and Palomar is 4-3, and each team has one game left with Chaffey.

By Chuck Curtis

Saturday is the big night for the 100-member strong Lemon Grove Sportsmen's Golf Club. They will stage their annual banquet at the Chula Vista Golf Club.

With 100 members, wives and guests, it should be a gala affair. The wife and I will be there as guests of the Club and we are really looking forward to the event.

This weekend the Padres come home to the Stadium to begin a ten-game home stand.

They open Friday against Philadelphia in a night game, meet them again Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

The Padres are a different club than the fans watched last season. As one member of the Padre staff said, "Last season they were just seeking respectability. This season they have confidence in every game."

This new-found confidence shows in the way the Padres battle right down to the final out.

A number of their young, strong players have gotten a fine start on the season and this year's version of the Padres should prove no stranger to the home run.

Nate Colbert has earned the lion's share of the publicity with his assault in the fences around the National Laegue, but he hasn't had a monopoly on the homers.

Clarence Gaston, Jerry Morales, Ollie Brown, Al Ferrara, Tommy Dean, Ed Spezio, Van Kelly and Dave Campbell are among those on the club with long-ball potential.

The young Padre Club has already proven itself to be one of the really exciting teams to watch this saeson.

Shrewd trading by Buzzi Bavazi and company has strengthened the club in just about every position. The pitching staff, under the close guidance of Roger Craig is rounding into shape and should give San Diego baseball fans reason to do some real cheering.

In the San Diego Stadium the fans have one of the finest spots to watch baseball ever built. It is big enough to hold good crowds but so designed that all seats are good. It has a lot of the warmth and intimacy of old Ebbetts Field back in Brooklyn.

Now all that is needed is a return to the call of the butchers in the stands — "Cold Beer, Get Your Cold Beer." — and the stage will be set for a wonderful season."

See you in the stadium Friday night.

Rodeo at Arena

Two of the rodeo world's most celebrated specialty acts — trick rider Connie Griffith and clown Chuck Henson — will be featured in the Pacific Indoor Rodeo which plays May 15-17 at the San Diego International Sports Arena.

Rain Lags By Half

What started out to be a series of "trace" rainfalls changed when the weatherman got down to business near midweek.

Rameo Marcon, meteorologist with the local fire department reported trace moisture (too little t be measured) on April 11, 16 and 17. But before the week-end arrived a .14 inches rain had been deposited. Tuesday, in spite of hail, rain and sleet, only .15 inches was recorded.

That brought this year's total of rain to 8.37.

Last year at the same time 16.10 inches had been recorded — nearly twice as much as this year.

Rain season starts July 1. Rain days are at 4 p.m.

U.S. Bank Gains

United States National Bank has announced gains in net income, resources, deposits and loans for the first quarter of 1970 ending March 31.

The bank reported net income of $592,433 for the first three months, a four percent gain over the $567,752 for the first quarter, 1969.

Resources of $595,601,856 were a 23 percent gain over the $483,319,775 reported on March 31, 1969.

Licensed Drivers Top 11-1/2 Million

The number of persons holding valid California drivers' licenses grew by 363,000 last year — reaching 11,425,000 at the end of 1969, Department of Motor Vehicles Director Robert C. Cozens said.

The 3,640,132 drivers licenses issued and renewed in 1969 will be overshadowed by a jump to over four and a half million which will be processed during 1970, Cozens predicted. He said DMV is feeling the impact of a 1965 law change which shortened the basic California license term from five to four years, causing all five-year licenses issued in 1965 and four-year licenses issued in 1966 to be up for renewal this year.

While issuing last year's licenses, the department gave 4,069,038 written tests, 3,576,298 vision tests, and 1,526,329 driving tests.

Other evidence that DMV was busy during 1969:

The department received 4,300,393 abstracts of traffic violation convictions from the courts, of which 97,998 were for drunk driving.

Negligent drivers placed on probation numbered 35,476, while 28,678 had their licenses suspended and 8,274 had their driving privileges revoked.

Weeks of preparation and promotion will culminate tonight, tomorrow and Saturday when the Monte Vista seniors present their play, a comedy entitled "Lo and Behold".

Others in the cast are Jill Bettell, Doug Dickerson, Mark Hodges, Marianna Jeffers, Tim McGhei, and Mike Safford.

As a special promotional event, the cast sponsored a "Dinner with a Star" contest. Students were asked to buy pictures of the play's stars for 25c each. The persons buying the most autographed photos went to dinner at a downtown restaurant with the star of his choice Saturday, April 18.

Cast members Mark Hodges and Jill Bettell plus a free show were he prizes in the lottery contest where tickets sold for 10c each.

Plan To Fight Vandalism Cited

The La Mesa-Spring Valley Board of Education last week considered authorization of a plan that would stagger the schedule of custodians at junior high schools to combat the rising rate of vandalism.

In the plan, the custodians would re-arrange their work sheet to include eight hours a week of time and a half pay, so that a man would be on duty every afternoon and evening of the week.

The schedule would cost approximately $500 per week more than the district is now paying the custodial help, but it is felt that the savings resulting from the plan would offset the cost many times.

90 Pills a Person

Barbiturate Controls Seen By Van Deerlin

WASHINGTON — Enough amphetamines and barbiturates are legally produced each year to provide every man, woman and child in the country with an annual supply of about 90 of the pills, Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin, D-San Diego, said.

"The irony is that legitimate medical need for these drugs, particularly amphetamines, scarcely exists," he said.

Van Deerlin is a member of the House Commerce Committee, which is currently considering omnibus drug control legislation. The San Diego Congressman said eight billion amphetamine pills are manufactured each year, plus 10 billion units of barbiturates and other tranquilizers.

"Nobody knows how many pills are turned out illegally," he continued. "We are confronted by an enormous information gap when we try to pin down specifics about dangerous drug supply and demand."

He said amphetamines are universally regarded as a legitimate treatment for only two diseases, both relatively rare: narcolepsy and hyperkinetic behavior.

"Some 99 percent of the total legal amphetamine production is put to much more controversial use in weight and fatigue control."

"A number of possible new regulations are under discussion in the committee," he said. "These include possible quotas on the production of amphetamines; licensing of the manufacturers, distributors and dispensers of these drugs; safeguards to prevent illicit individuals and firms from ordering the drugs, and shorter time limits for filling prescriptions."

Controls are so lax now that in a case which astonished Congressional investigators last fall, 1.6 million pep pills were sold by a Chicago firm to a fictitious Tijuana drug store which gave an address that was actually the 11th hole of the Tijuana Country Club golf course.

The Commerce Committee is expected to prepare the drug control legislation for consideration by the House in the near future.

A version of the bill has already been passed by the Senate.

In the next 10 years another baby boom, similar to the one in the 1950s, will be in full swing, according to the National Industrial Conference Board in predicting parent population will increase 23 per cent.

Free Use of S.V. Sewers Not For Otay

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors agreed on Tuesday that the Otay Municipa Water District is not entitled to free use of the sewer lines of the Spring Valley Sanitation District.

This recommendation had been made by Public Works Administrator and County Counsel Bertram McLees.

In a related but separate action, the board initiated proceedings for annexation of the Lundberg annexation of 138 acres to the Spring Valley District.

This is the section that is also seeking detachment from Otay. It drains naturally to Spring Valley, but could also be served by Otay.

Otay had taken the position that as successor to the La Prea Water District, it gained rights in the Jamacha trunk line.

Previously the county department of Special District Services had recommended that Calavo Gardens section could be served if it pays Spring Valley for the sewer capacity used.

Traffic Lights For Sweetwater

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—County supervisors called for bids Monday on traffic signal lights at two troublesome Spring Valley intersections.

The lights will be installed on Sweetwater Road at Blossom Lane and at the northerly intersection with South Bay Freeway.

The estimated cost of the Sweetwater-South Bay intersection job is $11,450. This intersection has had 27 reported accidents in the three years to January, 14 of them including injuries.

The estimated cost of the lights at Blossom Lane is $17,000. This intersection which serves Mt. Miguel High School has had 15 accidents over the same three years, including seven injury acidents.

Ron Mix, well known for his years as a San Diego Charger stalwart and now an avowed political aspirant, will act as Grand Marshal. He is also slated to act as Master of Ceremonies for the Kickoff Dinner.

Tickets for the dinner, an old fashioned barbecue, are on sale and going fast, according to the Oldtime Days Association. To avoid being shut out it is recommended that you buy your tickets early.

Pit Stop Opens Near College

A Pit Stop gasoline and dry cleaning center will open this weekend, April 24-26, in Lemon Grove at Broadway one block east of College, Ray Purdy, president, Dyton Development Corp., announced today.

"Our success in the four other Pit Stop locations has convinced us that the one-stop convenience of discount gas and cleaning is the winning formula for the future," Purdy added.

The grand opening will feature special reduced prices April 24-26 at all six Pit Stop locations.

Dytron Development Corp., based in National City, opened its first Pit Stop less than two years ago at Broadway and Palomar in Chula Vista. Other locations are Mission blvd. and Felspar st. in Pacific Beach, Linda Vista rd. and Comstock st. in Linda Vista, and Third ave. at Main st. in Otay.

As a sampling Al Couppee will portray Sid Gillman; Fred Lewis will be Jerry Wynn; Fred Hayes will be Don Kojis; Lyle Bond will be Elvin Hayes; Rod Paige will be Bob Breitbard and Bob Williams will be Walter Hahn. There will be many more. All of this gives an idea as to what a maximum of 250 diners may expect.

The affair is strictly stag and tickets are $25. Hosted cocktail will be at 6:30 with a steak dinner an hour later.

Tickets may be obtained through the office of this newspaper as long as the supply last. A sell out is anticipated.

Board Picks Monte Vista Ranch Site

Monte Vista Ranch, near Jamul, was one of three sites studied by a citizen's committee and was recommended to the Grossmont College Board as a possible site for a second campus.

The Board last week decided to seek an option on the property, and was advised that it had 30 days to make a definite decision on the matter.

M.V. Ranch, and Mast Ranch in Blossom Valley were two sites regarded highly by special consultant Harold Hughes, whom the Board hired last month.

"If the population explosion and the increase in enrollment continues unchecked, it is a shame you can't buy both of these sites right now," insisted Hughes.

The property is expected to sell for $6,500 per acre, but Hughes noted that by the time the Board would be considering a third campus there would be no land available at that price.

Table Grapes Get CFB Push

Mrs. Martin Siebe, California Farm Bureau women's chairman, last week told grape growers of efforts by Farm Bureau women throughout the United States to promote the sale and use of California table grapes.

She went on to indicate that the women "are anxious to use their influence with every possible consumer to cause them to return to the market for continuing purchases of grapes."

In testimony presented at a public hearing on a proposed grape marketing order amendment to raise the sugar content requirements for desert area table grapes, the Solano County farm wife told of organized "Freedom to Market" activities across the U. S. to insure that marketing procedures are not disrupted by labor union boycott tactics.

Mrs. Siebe then urged grape growers to maintain the highest quality and flavor in grapes in order to step up consumer purchases. "We received statements last year from various women's groups expressing disappointment with the sweetness of grapes," she said. "This appeared to be particularly true of those grapes shipped early in the season."

Cranston Warns War Is Pollution

Calling war "the ultimate pollution," Senator Alan Cranston (D.,Calif.) has warned that the environmental issue "must not be used to cop out on Vietnam, the arms race and the many social and economic problems of this nation."

At the same time, he outlined for Earth Day audiences in California a seven-point program to combat pollution which, he said, "must become the nation's first priority."

"We must also enlist the remainder of the world in a similar effort," Cranston declared, pointing out that "it will do us very little good to clean up our air and land and waters if people all over the world continue to pollute the skies and poison the seas."

"Pollution is an internationalist," Cranston said. "Pollution recognizes no borders or boundaries. It doesn't need a passport or a visa and it can't be stopped by tariff barriers."

He said he saw "a ray of great hope" in this worldwide problem, however.

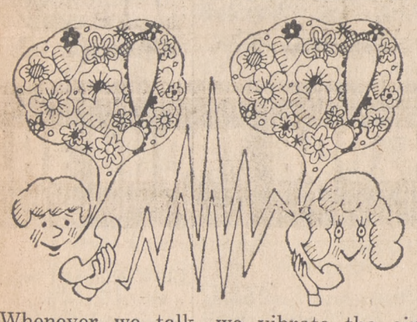
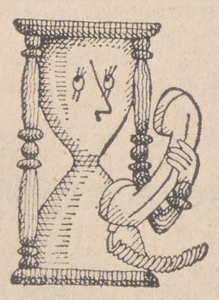
THE PHONE BOOTH



Whenever we talk, we vibrate the air between us and the person we're talking to. The mouthpiece of your telephone changes the air vibrations into electrical impulses which travel to the other telephone receiver. There the electrical waves are converted back into sound waves which are uniquely your own. Unseen, however, in this process are the billions of miles of wire and millions of switches which could be used to direct your vibrations to the single phone, of the more than 200 million telephones in the world, that you selected. With millions of calls a day, it takes a lot of good switching to make sure you get good vibrations.



How long does the average American, with a life span of 70 years, talk on the telephone? According to a recent study, he spends a total of 8760 hours on the phone, which works out to about 125 hours per year or 20 minutes per day. Twenty minutes doesn't seem like much, but after 70 years it adds up to one full year of your life!
